Highlight of the week

Poppy Project

To mark 100 years since the end of WWI, Portway pupils were challenged to create poppies to help remember the soldiers who lost their lives during wars.

A huge thank you to everyone who helped create this amazing remembrance display!

ActionAid's Big Me!

As part of Work Week – on Friday 30th November, we want the children of Portway to show us what they would like to be when they grow up, by coming to school dressed as their future selves.

Bring along a £1 donation for Actionaid so not only can we help you achieve your dreams but you can help another child in a different part of the world achieve theirs.

Actionaid is a charity dedicated to raising the aspirations for all people in all countries of the world.

Change lives. For good.

BOOK FAIR

Portway's Book Fair continues next week (19th – 21st November).

Please visit the Library at 3pm each day.

Dodgeball Competition

This week, Portway took part in a Year 5/6 Dodgeball Competition held at Rokeby School. Portway pupils played well and showed great teamwork.

Well done Year 5 and 6!

Stand up to bullying!

This week we have been supporting anti-bullying week, thinking about how we 'Choose Respect' in assemblies and discussing ways to celebrate individuality in our classrooms.

We are inviting all members of the Portway community to take part in supporting anti-bullying week by making odd socks part of their school uniform on Monday 19th November!

Props Needed!

Early Years need your help for their nativity! Please give prop donations to the Early Years class teachers. If you have cuddly sheep, walking sticks, a toy baby, extra large paper/ board for the backdrops, these would be much appreciated.

Children in Need

To support this year's Children in Need, Portway ran the following fundraisers:

- Sold colour changing wristbands £1 each
- Non uniform day on 16th November (Children were encouraged to wear spotty clothes/Pudsey inspired outfits and accessories)

We will reveal how much we raised in next week's newsletter. A huge thank you for everybody's donations!

Competition Time!

Don't forget the anti-bullying poster competition!

Hand in your A4, colourful poster to your class teacher by Monday 19th November.

Remember it must include the words 'We Choose Respect'. The winner will be announced next week!

WE DO HAVE A CHOICE.
WE CAN CHOOSE RESPECT.
